ROMAN FORUM BY STEPHANIE BIANCO

THESE PICTURES, TAKEN IN 2016, ARE OF THE ROMAN FORUM. THE FORUM WAS A SITE LOCATED AT THE CENTER OF THE ANCIENT CITY OF ROME AND THE LOCATION OF IMPORTANT RELIGIOUS, POLITICAL AND SOCIAL ACTIVITIES. IT WAS A PUBLIC MEETING PLACE FOR CITIZENS, STARTING AROUND 500 B.C. IT IS NOW A LARGELY POPULAR TOURIST SITE, AS MUCH OF THE BUILDINGS ARE STILL SOMEWHAT STANDING.

YOU CAN STILL SEE BUILDINGS SUCH AS THE TEMPLE OF SATURN, THE TEMPLE OF CASTOR AND POLLUX, THE BASILICA, AND MOST NOTABLY, THE COLOSSEUM.

THERE ARE WALLS WITH INSCRIPTIONS IN LATIN TEXT STILL STANDING, SUCH AS THIS ONE. THESE WERE USED FOR ANNOUNCEMENTS ABOUT WHAT WAS HAPPENING AT THE TIME, OR IMPORTANT MESSAGES TO THE PUBLIC.

MOST OF THE ANCIENT BUILDINGS IN THE FORUM WERE DESTROYED AROUND 410 A.D., WHEN THE ROMAN EMPIRE FELL. IT WAS THEN USED AS A PASTURE FOR GRAZING ANIMALS DURING THE MIDDLE AGES, UNTIL IT WAS DISCOVERED BY ARCHAEOLOGISTS IN 1803.
